The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society (LLS) provides a limited amount of Financial Assistance to help patients with significant financial needs and who are under a doctor's care for a confirmed blood cancer diagnosis. Reimbursement is processed through your local chapter, and payments are issued directly to you.

The Co-Pay Assistance Program helps you pay your insurance premiums and meet co-pay obligations. We'll also help you find additional sources of financial help. For more information, see Co-Pay Assistance. The program begins each July 1 and is supported entirely by public contributions. For more information about the Patient Financial Aid Other financial support may be eligible as follows:

- Non-medical expenses in the form of a one-time $100 stipend to eligible blood cancer patients
- Patient Travel Assistance for treatment-related transportation and lodging
- Patient Travel Assistance for treatment-related therapy
