Walter Reed National Military Medical Center in Bethesda offers medical care.

Patients must present valid military identification cards upon arrival for health treatment services. Based on the philosophy that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure", an array of prevention and wellness programs and services helps families to maintain a healthy and active quality of life. At the same time, expert teams of treatment specialists stand ready to restore health by collaborating, thoroughly investigating, and treating patient problems.

A central appointment phone line provides easy access to services.
