The Fairfax-Falls Church Community Services Board offers Residential Services for people with disabilities including:

- Respite services for caregivers (center and home-based);
- A subsidy program to help families pay for respite care;
- Varying levels of residential support services based on individual needs and preferences. Supports can range from in-home or drop-in hours each week to group home settings with 24-hour staff support;

The program operates some services directly and some through contracts with private residential service providers.
