First Light Home Care offers assisted personal transportation services. A caregiver will transport a patient to their appointment and can be as involved or uninvolved as they want. Transportation assistance also means a caregiver can help the individual run errands, get to appointments and go to social events.

Transport is a non-ambulatory transport and wheelchair portability is limited. Most likely we can accommodate walkers, oxygen tanks and small medical devices. Caregivers would be driving their own cars and car type/size will vary.
